ALL DAY! ALL INVITED!

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 23!

The University Celebrates its Eastern Shore Birth

Salisbury State University is 75-years-young this September and is celebrating with a birthday party for the entire Eastern Shore! A Festival for University Neighbors, it's FUNday, Saturday, September 23. This is SSU's way of saying thank you, Delmarva, for all you've done for your campus in the last three-quarters of a century.

FUNday's celebration has something for everyone. Its 100 events include games, contests, sports, exhibitions, art, movies, lectures, live music, children's activities—come see SSU like you've never seen it before!

The night ends with a pops concert on the lawn, a rousing sing-along of "Happy Birthday, SSU" and a colorful light show.

FUNday generally breaks down into three parts:

11 A.M.-3 P.M.: DAY FESTIVAL, MAIN CAMPUS.

1-4 P.M.: SPORTS, ATHLETIC FIELDS.

7-9 P.M.: POPS CONCERT ON THE FRONT LAWN.

The Nichols Sisters and Family, Randy Lee Ashcraft and his band and the Salisbury Symphony Orchestra. Bring a folding chair or blanket, have a piece of cake and relax to music under the stars.

All activities are free! Parking on campus and Asbury United Methodist Church. Following are brief descriptions of each event, time and location. (See pages 6-7 for an easy-to-use calendar and map.)

EVENT DESCRIPTIONS

9a.m.-2 p.m. Lankford Collection: Small Things Forgotten but Saved. Nabb Research Center, Power Building. Journey through 200 years of history on the Eastern Shore of Maryland—through the social, cultural and historical documents and artifacts which have been treasured and gifted to us by the Lankford family.

10-11 a.m. Soccer Clinic. Soccer Field. Spruce up those soccer skills with SSU's Coach Gerry DiBartolo. Don't be surprised if your friends start calling you Pélé after this session. Boys and girls of all ages invited.

10 a.m.-10 p.m. Herb's Place Games. Game Room, University Center. Free play. All day. Enjoy free pool, Ping Pong, darts and video games for the entire day. And if you really think you've got what it takes, participate in our pool tournament at 11 a.m. or our Ping Pong tournament at 1 p.m.

10:30 a.m.-Noon. SCUBA. Maggs Pool. Join SSU's answer to Jacques Cousteau as PADI accredited dive instructor John Kiser demonstrates the basics of SCUBA diving. Don't miss this unique opportunity to have your SCUBA questions answered.

11 and 11:30 a.m. Sally & Her Puppets Present Stories Old & New! Blackwell Library. For more than a generation Sally Thrash has been telling stories to children of all ages from North Carolina to North Salisbury. Folk tales include "Soap, Soap, Soap" and "The Judge."

11-11:45 a.m. Celebration! The Streamer Dance! Maggs Dance Studio. Kids celebrate living in a neighborhood through the use of colorful streamers and dance. For pre-kindergarten through second graders, taught by the SSU Dance Company and Dr. Victoria Hutchinson. Limited to 16 children, pre-registration required. Call Beth Wade at 410-548-4183.

11-11:45 a.m., Noon-12:45 p.m. Kids Web Design. Fulton Hall Mac Lab. Instant Web pages equals instant fun. Let the folks in ITS take a digital picture of your kids and then create an instant Web page. There are three templates from which kids can choose, and we'll even provide a disk so they can take the newly created pages home.

11 a.m.-Noon. Top 10 Educational Web Sites. Fulton Hall 145 Computer

Lab. Hey parents, are you sick and tired of hearing about how great the Internet is but not finding anything helpful? Well, SSU's Education Department has some tips for you. They'll show you the best sites for elementary and middle school students, from homework helpers and tips, to research. If you have kids and a computer, you don't want to miss this.

11 a.m.-Noon, Noon-1 p.m., 1-2 p.m., 2-3 p.m. What You Might Not Know About Recycling. Main Mall. The BioEnvirons Club invites you to join them in a puppet show dramatizing the ins and outs of recycling, such as which materials can and cannot be recycled and why it's so important.

11 a.m.-Noon, 12:30-1:30 p.m. Admissions Tours. Admissions House. Have you always wanted to know more about SSU? Take our campus tour. Begin at the Admissions House and explore the campus' unique landscaping, four academic schools, study and recreation areas, computer labs and much more.

11 a.m.-12:30 p.m. Pics with Sammy the Sea Gull. Main Mall. Sammy and his photographer friend will be walking through the mall with a Polaroid. If you spot him, you can have your picture taken with him—a little memento for the scrapbook.

11 a.m.-12:30 p.m. National Conference on Undergraduate Research (NCUR) Presentations. Blackwell Library, Maryland Room. Find out what happens when university students do research. Presentations are approximately 10-15 minutes.

Michael Mullendore, Henson School, chemistry

Bradford Brooks, Henson School, biology

Alissa Hearne, Fulton School, music

Jo Simms, Fulton School, music

Nicole Vincent, Fulton School, English

John Hozik, Perdue School, economics

11 a.m.-1 p.m. Casting for Kids. Main Mall. Think you've got what it takes to hook that 10-pound rockfish? SSU's Fishing Club invites children to find out by casting a rod into a Hula-Hoop. Make your parents proud and win a few prizes along the way.

11 a.m.-1 p.m. Herp's Alive. Main Mall. Don't ask about insurance 'cause it's not Geico; it's a gecko. Student Organization for Activity Planning presents Herp's live reptile and amphibian show. Much of the exhibit will be hands on and you might even find out how "pacman" frogs got their name.

11 a.m.-1 p.m. Sophanes Flashback Photos. Main Mall. Want to experiment with a whole new look? Join Sophanes Theatre Club as we step through different eras in time and try on the fashions of the ages. Get free photos of the whole family dressed in styles from Greek warrior to Renaissance woman. Keep the photo as a special memento of this unforgettable day!

11 a.m.-1 p.m. Soccer Club Drills. Quad. Learn the basics and sharpen your skills. Fun activities designed to improve your game. Also, don't miss this chance with the radar gun, which will measure how hard you can kick the ball.

11 a.m.-1 p.m. Sam's the Man ... Ah, Sea Gull. Main Mall. Crafts artist Cathy Tingle helps kids make their own Sammy the Sea Gull mascot. Sponsored by the SSU Book Rack.

11 a.m.-1 p.m., 2-3 p.m. SSU 75th Anniversary Quilt. Main Mall. Kaaren Kundell and kids decorate squares for an SSU 75th Anniversary Quilt, to be put together by members of the Lydia Guild and unveiled during our anniversary year. Square is in! Co-sponsored by the SSU Book Rack and the Guild.

11 a.m.-1 p.m. Tropical Reef Communities. Devilbiss Hall 126. Discover the wonders of a living tropical ecosystem. Watch as sponges, corals, algae, crabs, brittle stars, exotic fish and other unique

Over the years, Perdue Farms has hired some of its most promising associates from Salisbury State.

In 1939, Arthur W. Perdue hired this promising 19-year-old student as his third full-time employee. Frank Perdue went on to turn the company into a household name.

Jim Perdue, MBA, Salisbury State

From the Class of 2000
David Inman, Environmental Manager Trainee; Allison Foltz, Associate Programmer Analyst; and Matthew Briggs, Sales Trainee are among the many Salisbury State University graduates and students who join Perdue Farms each year as associates, co-ops and interns.

Congratulations, Salisbury State University, on 75 years of academic excellence and best wishes to our many associates who attended SSU —
we're proud to have you on our team.

organisms interact in their own fantastic universe.

11 a.m.-2 p.m. Baseball Toss. Main Mall. The Exercise Science Club challenges kids to toss a baseball. Similar to a bull's eye target, based on a point system, the closer they get to center, the more points they receive. The 10 highest scorers will be mailed a prize. Age groups: 7 and under, 8-12, 13 and above.

11 a.m.-2 p.m. Résumania. Main Mall. Need a résumé? Have a résumé that could use a little dusting off? Well, come on down. You're the next contestant on Résumania. Let Career Services get you started or finish you up. Either way, a few minutes of your time might pay off big in dollar signs.

11 a.m.-2 p.m. Youth Physical Obstacle Course. Quad. Dodge cones, jump hurdles, maneuver through sticky situations. It's all fast and fun and it's just for the kids. Sorry, parents.

11 a.m.-2:30 p.m. Merritt Andrews Mini-Film Festival. Caruthers Hall Auditorium. Salisbury native Merritt Andrews proves that not every artist needs to starve for her work. An animator for Disney feature animation, she has found her niche. In celebration of her success, SSU presents Mulan and Tarzan. At 11 a.m. and 1 p.m., her mother, Marjorie Andrews, introduces Mulan and at 1 p.m. Tarzan, respectively, sharing what it's like to raise artistic children.

11 a.m.-3 p.m. Concerts in the Gazebo. Enjoy the soothing, acoustic sounds of local bands.

11-11:30 a.m. Folk Heroes Michael O'Loughlin and Robin Cockey

11:45 a.m.-12:15 p.m. Sweet Adelines

12:30-1 p.m. Wayne Ackerson and Phil Campbell

1:15-1:45 p.m. Runaway Bride Quartet

2-2:30 p.m. Gregg and Cara (Gregg Pica and Cara Dustmann)

2:45-3:15 p.m. Talent Show Mystery Group

11:15 a.m.-3 p.m. Concerts on the Front Lawn. These four distinct bands will rock you & roll you.

11:15 a.m. SubZero. Our youngest band, these boys are so cool they're SubZero. Enjoy the familiar tunes of Bush and Blink 182 along with other favorites.

Noon. Grey Sky Morning. With their folksy-rock this female duo gives the Indigo Girls a run for their money. Two of SSU's own, they'll startle you with their unusual lyricism.

1 p.m. Davis Street Band. Clean, fresh rock, these guys can really play. Their usual stomping ground is the Baltimore area, so we're lucky to have them.

2 p.m. Three Track Mind. A home grown SSU band. These guys rock hard and are known for the crazy antics of the base player, affectionately known as Krafty.

11 a.m.-3 p.m. Archaeological Dig. Main Mall. A chance for kids to learn how to dig like an archaeologist with the History Department's Elizabeth Ragan and find buried treasures!

11 a.m.-3 p.m. The Basics of Infection Control. Main Mall. An apple a day keeps the doctor away, but only if you throw hard and have good aim. Join Cynthia Cowell in a game of throw-the-ball-at-the-germ and learn something about infection control along the way.

11 a.m.-3 p.m. Anatomy Lab. Devilbiss Hall 145. What kind of skeletons do you have in your closet? At the Anatomy Lab, SSU's Biology Department will show you their favorite skeleton, as well as take your EKG and pulse readings. You can also have your vision checked and explore the latest in anatomy computer programs.

11 a.m.-3 p.m. It's a Small World. Devilbiss Hall 134. Examine the secrets of hair, skin and even dirt particles under a microscope. Get up close and personal with an insect or bring your own specimens to view.

11 a.m.-3 p.m. Where Do You Live? Main Mall. SSU's Geography Department asks this question and then answers it by printing out a color map of your neighborhood using the GIS system. See your house from the sky!

11 a.m.-3 p.m. Magic School Bus. Main Mall. Take a tour of the human body! Children ages 4-10 complete an activity book and learn fun facts about the amazing human body—like which muscle is the strongest and why we hiccup.

11 a.m.-3 p.m. Open Gym. Maggs Center. Fitness can be fun. Sure you've heard it before, but we're going to prove it. Test your mettle on our climbing wall or enjoy our Nautilus Room furnished with its impressive array of exercise and weight equipment.

11 a.m.-3 p.m. Kids Korner. Main Mall. Psi Chi psychology honor society invites you and your family to some home grown fun. Bring the kids and their imaginations and let them run wild (that's the imaginations, not the kids). Let their creativity roam in painting mini-pumpkins.

11 a.m.-3 p.m. The Cognet Game. Main Mall. The German Club challenges you to read German. Or at least recognize some German words. You might be surprised to discover how many English words share a common root with their German counterparts.

11 a.m.-3 p.m. The Playpen. Main Mall. Residence life has a whole host of fun activities planned for both adults and kids. There's an old-fashioned dunking booth, a zany kids' maze and activities designed to teach team building.

11 a.m.-3 p.m. The Plant Clinic. Main Mall. Need plant tips? Seek out our panel of plant doctors and green thumbs from SSU's Biology Department. Ask for advice about a sick plant, bring a plant to be identified, or find out which flowers grow best in shade.

11 a.m.-3 p.m. Open Houses. Bellavance Honors Center. Conflict Resolution Center. Check out our elegant Honors Center with its baby grand piano and computer lab. And don't miss the Conflict Resolution Center where families, businesses and governments can find assistance in conflict intervention. It will also be the home for the new major in conflict analysis and dispute resolution.

11 a.m.-3 p.m. Commemorative Mural. Main Mall. Pam Collins invites you to join her and a pride of Lower Shore artists in a community fence painting, which will celebrate the history of SSU and 11 a.m.-3 p.m. Lung Function Tests. Main Mall. Discover what respiratory therapy can do. You and your kids can test your pulmonary function and find out how to use a pulse oximeter and a peak flow meter—even Dr. Doolittle had to start somewhere.

11 a.m.-3 p.m. Kisses. Main Mall. I don't know about your family, but in mine we keep a very strict score no matter how "friendly" the game is supposed to be. The Center for Conflict Resolution has designed an activity that demonstrates how ambitiously people compete even when it's against their best interests.

11 a.m.-3 p.m. Klassic Kid Stuff. Main Mall. Kids can stop by and join Spanish Club members in a game of Red Light, Green Light or Duck, Duck, Goose. They're oldies but goodies, so don't miss this chance for fun and games.

11 a.m.-3 p.m. Glass Blowing Demo. Fulton Hall Glass Shop. Visit the new hot shop, one of only 50 hot glass blowing university studios in the nation. Art faculty member Dan Marder will lead you through the studio and explain the glass blowing process.

11 a.m.-3 p.m. Torch Glass Blowing Demo. Main Mall. Watch art faculty member Jennifer Kelting as she works her magic creating beautiful hand blown glass beads. She has been named one of the top 100 new glass artists in the world! She'll explain the process, answer your questions and do her stuff.

11 a.m.-3 p.m. Pot Party. Main Mall. Join art faculty member Marie Cavallaro and her students in one of their time honored traditions: learn to "throw" pottery! Potter's wheels, clay, water and paper towels are provided, so you need bring only your hands, imagination and mud-slinging clothes or a T-shirt you won't mind getting dirty. The clay will be wet, but you can take it with you!

11 a.m.-3 p.m. Reading Room. Main Mall. Grab a moment in the shade with Kappa Delta Pi in their outdoor reading room. Listen with your kids as members of the education honor society read aloud.

11 a.m.-3 p.m. Face Painting with Logos. Main Mall. The American Marketing Association wants to turn your kids into walking advertisements. Well, not really. But they will decorate their faces with popular, colorful logos.

11 a.m.-3 p.m. Guess the Trademark. Main Mall. Test your wits and your pop culture knowledge when the American Marketing Association asks you to name that trademark. With both visual and auditory clues, they'll rack your brain and find out what's really in there.

11 a.m.-3 p.m. Information Station. Main Mall. Find out how to get involved with Habitat for Humanity, test your skills in their hammering contest or try to guess the number of nails in a jar.

11 a.m.-3 p.m. Presidential Poll? Fulton Hall 132. Who would be our next president if just FUNday participants were eligible to vote. Find out with the Math Department's mock presidential voting and public opinion poll. You can type in your choice and see the latest results as the poll is taken.

11 a.m.-3 p.m. Give SSU a Hand for 75 Years. Main Mall. Kids can immortalize their hands on an SSU fence. Choose from several colors of paints and leave a hand print for posterity. Sponsored by Social Work Club.

11 a.m.-3 p.m. Body Beautiful—Body Art. Main Mall. Student Health Center invites kids of all ages to enjoy healthy alternatives to body piercing and tattooing by decorating themselves with body glitter, gemstones and temporary tatoos. Information on the risks associated with permanent tattooing and piercing will be available. Also, the parents of these emerging artists can have their cholesterol tested.

11 a.m.-3 p.m. Elephants and Donkeys. Main Mall. Unsure about voter registration? Learn from PACE why it's important and how to do it. Absentee voter forms will also be available. Voice questions and concerns and have them addressed.

11 a.m.-3 p.m. Greek Golf. Main Mall. Try your hand at our hand-made specially designed putt-putt golf course. Exclusively for FUNday, you won't get another chance at these challenging holes created by SSU sororities and fraternities.

11 a.m.-3 p.m. Face Painting and Caricatures. Main Mall. Celebrate FUNday in style with a picture for your cheek or cheeky picture! Brothers and Sisters in Christ (BASIC) will make your face into a work of art and a guest caricaturist will provide the humor. Either way, be prepared to smile.

11 a.m.-3 p.m. Zoo 2 U. Main Mall. No it's not a bunch of rowdy SSU students destroying a dorm room at one o'clock in the morning. Real animals are much more tame and enjoyable. So bring your kids by to see Salisbury Zoo's favorite portable tykes.

11 a.m.-3 p.m. Kid Krafts. Main Mall. The Education Club has four different stations where kids can let their imaginations run wild. Don't worry, they can't break anything. But they can design a pie plate fish, a mobile, a paper bag puppet or a bottle shaker.

11 a.m.-3 p.m. Bubbles. Main Mall. Is there math behind bubbles? SSU's Math Department thinks so and they're going to try to convince you. But don't worry, there won't be any algebraic equations. Just a few strangely shaped wands and lots of bubbles and fun.

11 a.m.-3 p.m. Alumni Open House and Retrospective. Alumni House. Revisit the past with photos and memorabilia from old friends. While there, take a moment to appreciate the elegance and the order people™

tranquility of SSU's Alumni House. And, just as important, enjoy the A.C.

11 a.m.-3 p.m. Future SSU Alumni. Main Mall. We're looking for a few good men. And women. Well, actually boys and girls. If you think your kids have what it takes to be SSU graduates, then let University Police and the ID Office take their picture and make Future SSU Alumni Cards for them.

11 a.m.-3 p.m. Club Field Hockey Clinic. Quad. Workshop with our rough and tough field hockey girls. They'll teach you the basic moves, then let you take some shots at their goalie. Play nice.

11 a.m.-3 p.m. Blackwell Display Cases. Blackwell Library. If you like history and you like SSU, you'll definitely enjoy browsing these display cases crowded with SSU memorabilia. Let these artifacts and your imagination take you back to 1925 when SSU was just a fledgling testing its wings.

11 a.m.-3 p.m. "Japanese Crafts by American Hands" Art Exhibit. Fulton Hall Gallery. This unique exhibit features traditional Japanese silk embroidery pieces, Japanese Obi's, Ukiyo-e; contemporary American, Inuit and Japanese block prints; and a bonsai display. The Floating Kingdom through American eyes!

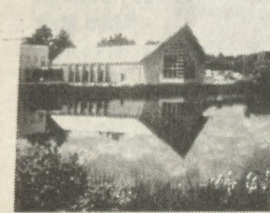

11 a.m.-3 p.m. "Paintings on Paper" Frank Megargee Art Exhibit. University Center, Atrium Gallery. His compositions feature bright hues, whimsical shapes and simplified forms which create energy and "eye appeal." Come see what makes this former Baltimore Evening Sun correspondent's paintings fun.

11 a.m.-3 p.m. Student Emmy Film. Fulton Hall 111. 1996 SSU alum Lucinda Bunting's Emmy Award-winning film documenting nearby Assateague Island. Everyone is invited to come and enjoy.

11 a.m.-3 p.m. Spirituality Survey. Main Mall. The Fellowship of Christians United in Study (FOCUS) invites you to stop by, find out more about spirituality and Christianity, and examine how they impact your life. Pamphlets will be available. FOCUS also asks that you fill out a spirituality survey to share your views of the spiritual.

11 a.m.-3 p.m. Monster Book Sale. Front Terrace of Blackwell Library. Like flea markets and yard sales? Then you'll love SSU's Monster Book Sale. Browse through our books and nab a few great deals along the way. There will also be a book raffle.

11 a.m.-3 p.m. Make a Book/Bookmark. Front Terrace of Blackwell Library. Are you always telling your kids to be more productive? Well, here's their chance. They can learn to make books and bookmarks and then take their creations home with them. And who knows? It might be the start of a very productive career.

11 a.m.-3 p.m. Eating for Health. Common's Caroline Room. Have you been promising to lose that extra 10 or 15 pounds but think it'll be too much work? Do health foods always taste like cardboard and food dye to you? Well, Kate Cerulli, University dietician, wants to change your mind. Sample foods from her health recipes and be astounded. She might even share a few secrets with you.

11 a.m.-3 p.m. International Name Creations. Main Mall. Ever wonder what you'd be like if you were born in Romania? Well, our international students can't answer that but they can tell what your name would be. Come down and have your name written in a foreign alphabet.

11 a.m.-3 p.m. Traffic Safety. Main Mall. Stop by the SAFE Communities table and find out about bike safety, pedestrian safety, DWI info and impairment. There will also be a chance to try the fatal vision goggles.

11 a.m.-3 p.m.—Tours/12:30-2 p.m.—Studio Time. So You Want To Be an Announcer? Caruthers Hall, WSCL Radio Station. See if you have what it takes to be the next Wolfman Jack. Take a tour of WSCL's radio station and read AP wire copy on the mike. Free cassettes for the first 50 announcers.

Noon-12:30 p.m. Man Overboard! Maggs Pool. Don't wait until The Perfect Storm to learn basic water rescue techniques. No need to even get wet as our pool staff shows how to handle an emergency.

Noon-12:30 p.m. ABC's of College. Admissions House. Are you frantically searching college lists looking for the right choice? Is there even a way to know which best suits you? And what about GPA? SAT? ACT? Teacher recommendations? President of the French Club? Find out how important these and other things really are when it comes to those critical times of application. The insider's view from one of SSU's own admissions experts.

Noon-1 p.m. Improv Workshop. Fulton Hall Black Box Theatre. Games of fast wit and fun slip-ups. Improv comedy is all about spontaneity. If you think you've got what it takes, learn improv basics from Bound and Gagged, SSU's own comedy improvisation troupe. Then, play some zany improv games and test what you've learned.

Noon-1 p.m. Maximize Your Profits. Holloway Hall 118. Who says business can't be fun? Dr. Karen Papke-Shields uses Tinkertoys to demonstrate the principles of linear programming to maximize profits! (This is for adults.)

Noon-1 p.m. Job Searches. Holloway Hall 116. Join management faculty member Denise Rotondo and increase your marketability. Update your résumé, become adept at Internet job searches and learn electronic resume writing.

Noon-1:15 p.m. Act Up! Fulton Hall 203. What happens when you cross an ice cream salesman, the Statue of Liberty and a skate board? Children grades two and up explore the basics of acting through game playing with theatre professor Robert Smith.

Noon-1:30 p.m. Salisbury Symphony Youth Orchestra. Holloway Hall Auditorium. SSU's Music Department invites everyone to attend the Salisbury Symphony Youth Orchestra's open rehearsal.

12:30-2:30 p.m. Passions of the Mind. What revs our faculty into fifth gear? Find out with 15-minute mini-talks by professors from each of the University's four schools. Time is left for questions and kibbitzing.

12:30-1 p.m. The Tao of Physics. Dr. Andrew Pica. Caruthers Hall 102. Are there laws that govern the cosmos or is it purely random? Both the ancient philosophy of Taoism and modern physics find order underlying the chaos. The SSU physics professor examines parallels between the workings of the physical world and human systems, and speculates ways of establishing a more fruitful relationship between our intellectual and moral lives.

1-1:30 p.m. The Reading Wars: Phonics vs. Whole Language. Dr. John Wolinski. Caruthers Hall 103. You've read about it in newspaper articles, commentary and angry letters to the editor. Is whole language the bogey man advocates of phonics claim? Interestingly, a middle ground seems to be growing between these two camps. The goal: the best of both worlds to help kids read and write at their best.

1:30-2 p.m. Where Have All the Trees Gone? Links Between Economics and Deforestation in the Brazilian Amazon. Dr. Jill Caviglia-Harris. Caruthers Hall 104. Recipient of a National Science Foundation grant to study the rain forest, the economics professor and author is just returned from her second trip to the Amazon where she studied connections between rain forest destruction and local markets, including the rise of a sustainable agriculture movement.

2-2:30 p.m. The Role of the African-American Woman in Society. Dr. Clara Small. Caruthers Hall 105. Mammy, vixen, seductress, politician/freedom fighter, teacher, advocate of civil rights, nurturer through troubled nights—The SSU history professor explores what it has meant to be an African-American woman, and a woman who is African-American.

1-1:30 p.m. (Fire), 2-3 p.m. (Ice) Fire and Ice. Devilbiss Hall 149 (Fire), Main Mall (Ice). Every good kid likes to see an explosion once in a while and SSU's Chemistry Department is offering them the chance. Watch as professionals mix their concoctions, then wow at the results. After all that heat, cool off with our chemists as they make "liquid nitrogen" ice cream in only a few short minutes.

1-2 p.m. Horticulture and Sculpture Tour. Starts at Fulton Hall Fountain. Take a moment to appreciate SSU's careful landscaping and unique sculpture. Discover who sculpted the "Fallen Angel" near Holloway Hall or what that beautiful red bloom is outside the University Center.

1-2 p.m. Investing and the Web. Holloway Hall 119. Do you feel a little old and out of touch when those Internet investment commercials bombard your TV? Well, no more.

SSU's Herman Manakyan will bring you up to speed plus some with his workshop on online investment research and trading.

1-2 p.m. The M&M Factory. Main Mall. Are you getting your fair share of green M&M's? Karen Papke-Shields helps explain quality control using M&M candies! For children and adults.

1-3 p.m. Fitness Fair. Maggs Center 206. Have you always wanted to know just how high you can jump? Or your exact body fat percentage? Drop by and find out who the Hercules or Xena of your family really is.

1-3 p.m. Open Swim. Maggs Pool. Swim laps, work on your butterfly technique, do underwater headstands, or just relax in our 25-meter swimming pool. Open for everyone to enjoy.

1-3 p.m. Develop Your Management Skills. Fulton Hall Computer Lab 145. This interactive session with management expert Dr. Frank Shipper explores those skills highly effective managers use to succeed in the quick-changing economy.

1-3 p.m. Ultimate Frisbee Demo/Workshop. Quad. Watch SSU's nationally ranked Ultimate Frisbee team in action and learn the basics of the game. If you already have some experience, come out and sharpen your skills. In either case, lots of people and rapidly moving disks ensure fun and surprises.

1-3 p.m. COMMUNITY Circle. Main Mall. Come "drum" with us! SSU students and Dr. Carolyn Bowden invite you to participate in a campus/commUNITY drum circle. It's fun and fast and it's all about celebration. All ages welcome and if you have handdrums, tambourines, shakers, etc. please bring them along.

1-3 p.m. Internet Faces. Blackwell Library Entrance. An SSU art student will use kids' faces as her canvas. Don't worry, it won't hurt. Once the masterpieces are completed, the pictures of the newly-decorated faces will be launched on the Internet.

1-3 p.m. Oriental Print Making. Main Mall. Join June Krell-Salago for a 200-year-old tradition as she demonstrates Gyotaku, "fish rubbing," a unique technique which creates bold and graphic images. Kids can bring their own T-shirts or simply watch as June transforms papers and fabrics.

1:30-3 p.m. Television Stardom. Caruthers Hall TV Station. Do you have what it takes to be the next Dan Rather or Carson Daly? SSU TV invite you to find out as they guide you through a tour of their studio and put you in front of the camera. First 50 visitors are given free videos of themselves.

2-2:30 p.m., 2:30-3 p.m. Year End Tax Planning. Holloway Hall 115. Why wait 'til December to start on those taxes? They don't have to cause migraines or bankruptcy. Find out from accounting faculty member Joe Quinn how to save time and money.

2-3 p.m. Scarab Poetry Slam. Holloway Hall Social Room. SSU's literary magazine, Scarab, invites you to join them for a poetry reading. Students and guest poet Nancy Mitchell will read selections of their original work. Free copies of the spring 2000 issue of Scarab will also be available.

2-3 p.m. Legends, Ghost Stories & Folklore of the Delmarva Peninsula. Blackwell Library. The notorious murderer/kidnapper Patty Cannon, pirates along the Chesapeake, ghosts! The Book Rack presents award-winning author and storyteller Ed Okonowicz, who brings nefarious characters to life. Okonowicz has been featured on National Public Radio's A Story Tree. For children from ages 10-100.

2-3:15 p.m. Take Your Cue from the Clue . . . Fulton Hall 203. Private eyes solve mysteries by finding the right clues. Actors do the same thing as they "find" their character. Adults, high school and up, separate clues from red herrings as they explore this process with SSU Theatre's Sherlock Holmes, acting professor Robert Smith.

2 p.m.-4 p.m. Genealogical Workshop. Nabb Research Center, Power Building. How do they do it? Historians, I mean. If you've wondered the same thing, then let out a sigh of relief. Ray Thompson, History Department chair and Nabb Center board member, will tell you the secrets to uncovering family history on the Lower Eastern Shore.

3-4:30 p.m. Pool Games. Maggs Pool. You don't have to be Michael Jordan or Shaq to participate in our water basketball game. In fact, tell the whole family to bring their swimsuits because all ages are invited. Basketball in the shallow end and dive for treasure in the deep.

Sea Gull Sports

10 a.m. Sea Gull Invitational: Women's Volleyball Tournament. Maggs Center. See the Sea Gulls in action all day long as SSU invites a number of teams to compete in this one day volleyball marathon.

1 p.m. SSU vs. Greensboro Football Game. Athletic Fields.
2 p.m. SSU v. Shenandoah Soccer Match. Athletic Fields.

FUNday descriptions were written and edited by Nicole Vincent with the help of the SSU Public Relations Office staff.

Evening of Pops: Concert on the Lawn

7 p.m. The Nichols Sisters and Family, Randy Lee Ashcraft and the Salt Water Cowboys, and the Salisbury Symphony Orchestra under the baton of Dr. Thomas G. Elliot. A capstone to a special day. Bring your lawn chair and blankets, sing "Happy Birthday, SSU" with President Janet Dudley-Eshbach and enjoy a Yanni-style light show. A special evening under the stars!

(4p.m. tee time?)

This morning he took control of his investments with online trading. Before lunch, two complex client negotiations in six different states were concluded via e-mail. By early afternoon our businessman had even planned the next family vacation and saved enough money to play golf before dinner. Oh, and of course he booked his tee time online as well.
